The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument:

Accounts Receivable, Bank, Short Term Deposits, Accounts Payable, & Bank Overdraft

The carrying amounts of these balances are equivalent to their fair value.

The current interest rate on the bank overdraft is 10.10% per annum (1999: 9.40%). This is a floating interest rate set by the bank. Apart from this the University has no significant exposure to currency risk and interest rate risk on its remaining financial assets and liabilities.

Concentration of Credit Risk

Financial instruments which subject the University potentially to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and short-term investments, accounts receivable, and fixed interest investments.

Cash and short-term investments are placed with high-credit-quality financial institutions and the amount of credit exposure to any one financial institution is limited. Concentrations of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of debtors.

The working capital facility consists of a three year evergreen multi-option cash advance facility of 10 million and a five year multi option committed cash advance facility of 5 million. The facility is secured by way of a deed of assignment over Government Grants.

16 Canterprise Limited

Canterprise Limited is registered under the Companies Act 1993 and is a wholly owned subsidiary of the University of Canterbury. Canterprise Limited is the commercial arm of the University and manages commercial activities relating to the sale of research, services and technology to external clients.

17 Canterbury Accommodation Trust (NZTET1)

The University has entered an agreement with the Canterbury Accommodation Trust renamed New Zealand Tertiary Accommodation Trust whereby :

- * the university has entered a contract with the Trust to design and construct additional student accommodation for $17.5 million. effective from 1 January 2000;
- * the University has leased it's student accommodation properties to the Trust for 20 years less one day,

- * the Trust has issued a 25 year licence to Canterbury University Student Services Trust to provide student accommodation, which has in turn granted sub-licence to the University;

- * on the termination of the lease and if called upon to do so by the Trust, the University must purchase the interest in the Trust's licence for $25 million or a lesser amount if agreed.

Following developments in generally accepted accounting practice a new Financial Reporting Standard is likely to be issued in the foreseeable future in respect of Accounting for Business Combinations. Once the standard has been promulgated the University will consider its accounting treatment of this arrangement in light of the new standard.

18 Councillors' Fees

31 Trust - Financial Instruments

The Trust Funds may have various financial instruments with off balance sheet risk. This risk may take the form of both interest rate and currency risk. Through the investing activities of the Trust Funds there is an exposure to credit risk in the event of non-performance by a counterparty.

FAIR VALUES

The estimated fair values of the Trust Funds' financial instruments at 31 December 1999 and 2000 are as follows:

	1999 Carrying Amount (in $000's)	Fair Value (in $000's)	2000 Carrying Amount (in $000's)	Fair Value (in $000's)
Recognised financial instruments

Short-term deposits	255	255	298	298

Accounts Payable	941	941	1,784	1,784
------------------	-----	-----	-------	-------

The following methods and assumptions were used to estimate the fair value of each class of financial instrument:

Fixed Interest Investments

The fair value is estimated based on current market interest rates available for investments of similar maturities.

Accounts Receivable, Bank, Short Term Deposits, Accounts Payable, & Bank Overdraft

The carrying amounts of these balances are equivalent to their fair value.

Foreign currency forward exchange contracts

The fair value is estimated based on current market rates.

CONCENTRATION OF CREDIT RISK

Financial instruments which subject the Trust Funds potentially to concentrations of credit risk consist principally of cash and short-term investments, accounts receivable and fixed interest investments.

Cash and short-term investments are placed with high-credit-quality financial institutions and the amount of credit exposure to any one financial institution is limited. Concentrations of credit risk with respect to accounts receivable are limited due to the large number of debtors.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

The Trust Funds are exposed to currency risk when investments are denominated in a foreign currency. Risk management activities are undertaken by the Investment Managers to operate within guidelines provided by the Trustees.

The mandate for the manager of the balanced portfolio requires international bonds to be fully hedged into $NZ and allows for being between 65% and fully hedged for international equities. The mandate for the manager of the overseas equities fund provides for an unhedged benchmark position but allows for up to 50% hedging if required.

The notional contract amounts of forward foreign exchange transactions outstanding at balance date are as follows:

	1999	2000
	(in $000's)	(in $000's)
Forward foreign exchange contracts	17,518	19,875

The maximum credit risk for the forward exchange contracts approximates the notional contract amount. The use of forward foreign exchange contracts provides effective cross rates until the maturity of the contracts which have a maturity date of 14 February 2001. (1999 - 16 February 2000).

Foreign exchange fair values

The estimated fair values of the Trust Funds' financial assets and liabilities relating to foreign exchange are as follows:

	1999		2000
	Carrying Value	Fair Value	Carrying Value	Fair Value
	(in $000's)	(in $000's)	(in $000's)	(in $000's)
Forward foreign exchange contracts	0	(186)	0	(907)
